

Clyde T. Corneille convicted and placed on sex offender registry
Clyde T. Corneille, a professing man in Louisiana, was convicted on 10/21/2024 on the charge of indecent behavior with juveniles.

Clyde T Corneille

Clyde was given a 5 year suspended sentence (meaning he does not serve time in prison unless he offends again within a given period of time), 3 years probation, and permanent placement on the sex offender registry. Clyde was originally arrested for this offense in October of 2020. He was allowed by Louisiana overseer Robert Eberhardt to attend Effie convention in 2021 and 2022. Robert was aware of the allegations against Clyde. Those in attendance were not informed by church leadership about Clyde's arrest and pending charges. In 2023 he was asked not to attend convention due to increased pressure from concerned church members. Additionally, Robert allowed Clyde to attend fellowship meetings after his arrest and made no attempt to inform members of his meetings until pressured to do so several years after his initial arrest.
