

Donna Bainbridge Burkholder concern and support for sister workers amongst others Morgan Bainbridge suffering abuse issues

@Corey. I hear you. Old boys club huddled together for a strategy session. However. the only thing that mattered in this situation was Morgan and I don't think that she felt like it was minor. MC was the third worker that abused my niece. I see a common thread. Mental and psychological control, sexual abuse and subsequent cover up repeated over and over. Apparently DMc took an online course to help her with her issues and intended on being back in the work as soon as things "blew over" in the east. I have been assured that she won't find her way back in the work, but I am pretty sure that she is in full control of her situation here in Ontario.

The whole MC thing makes me vomit. This cycle just keeps going....ugh.
