

Thomas Melendy suggests that there is a separating process of those true to principle and decency .. and the tares. Tares grow tall and flashy but lack genuine substance.

Missouri, MO
USA

What if God is separating the tares from the wheat as we are going through this crisis.

When our minds are renewed by the spirit and we cease from conforming to the the traditions of the fellowship we get transformed.

Once you truly see the corruption you can't unsee. Most are worried about the innocent workers and friends not realizing that until our eyes are opened we are groomed to be exactly what is causing the problem.

True worshippers are worried about those lives who have been abused. God could solve this very quickly. But I feel he is revealing this and we must all make a stand. We must stand against the evil and the cause of the evil.

We must love our neighbors.